Paulson-Gambrell Visit GSC Campus

By combining efforts the Student Body and the College Lecture Series presented the Students with a varied program of "Political" speakers. Pat Paulsen, former Presidential Candidate, delighted students and local residents with a speech given at the Hanner Field House. Mr. Paulsen came to GSC on short notice after the cancellation of Cartoonist Al Capp.

On the more serious side, newly appointed Senator David Gambrell presented the Establishment's views on Ecology. Senator Gambrell was part of the College Life Program for Earth Week. This year's Earth Week Chairman was Jim Hatfield, a political science major.

OPPOSITE PAGE: Senator Gambrell spoke to the Student Body during Earth Week Festivities. THIS PAGE: Pat Paulsen employed various facial expressions in expressing his views to a crowded auditorium.

Georgia Southern's twenty-fourth annual Miss Georgia Southern College Pageant was held Saturday, February 20, 1971. This year's winner, Miss Carol Jean Link, will compete in Columbus, Georgia for the title of Miss Georgia. The College Pageant is the first step in the Miss America Preliminaries. The remaining five finalists are; Miss Debbie Rhodes, first runner-up, Miss Gail Peters, second runnerup, Miss Pam Huff and Miss Emaline Kelly. Emaline was also this year's Miss Congeniality.

Wayne Buffington, Pageant Director for the third consecutive year, stated that Georgia Southern's Pageant is "one of the top shows in the country." Guests of the Pageant, sharing in the duties of conducting the show, were Nancy Carr, Miss Georgia, Jill Jackson, Miss Indiana, Cherie Davis, Miss Virginia and Rick McCool, Male Vocalist of the Miss Georgia Pageant.

The voting age in Georgia is 18, many political theorists maintain this does not affect the election outcomes. Candidates Carter and Suit made stops on the Georgia Southern Campus anyway. The programs of each were similar, with the Candidate explaining his views on the political issues of the 1970 campaign, followed by a question and answer session with the students.

Although a majority of the students here, as elsewhere, were not directly involved in campaigning, the campus buzzed with talk of political preferences and the intonations were filled with persuasion.

The November General Election found Carter the victor by a 2 to 1 margin over Suit. Had Suit won, he would have been the first Republican Governor of Georgia since reconstruction.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Graduates of 1971:

As you leave Georgia Southern, our very best wishes go with you. We assure you that we will not forget you, and we hope that your life here has had enough importance and meaning to you for you not to forget us.

The Georgia Southern that you leave is much larger than the one that you entered. We are growing, and expect to continue to do so. We began this year with an enrollment of 5,700, and will probably begin next year with about 6,000.

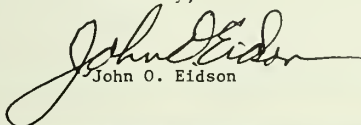

Along with this growth, we are trying hard to improve also in quality. Our number of faculty members is increasing in proportion with our enrollment, and we are greatly improving our facilities. In every way that we can, we want to make Georgia Southern an institution of which you can continue to be proud.

When you come back on visits to the campus, you will see a number of new buildings, some of which are now under construction: an Education Building, a Classroom-Office Building, a Physics-Mathematics Building, and a Family Life Center. The Education Building is practically completed and will be dedicated soon. Also, we will soon begin a large Library Building in the center of the campus beside the lakes. This will be the largest building on the campus and will help us in improving the quality of our academic work in all areas of the College.

As you graduate and go out to begin your careers, all of us at Georgia Southern wish you the best of success. We will continue our interest in you and will look forward to hearing from you. We hope you will find that the work which you did here was good preparation for whatever career you may undertake. We hope that you will have a resourcefulness in knowledge, wisdom, and moral character which will stand you in good stead wherever you go and whatever goals you strive for.

Our success here at Georgia Southern will be measured by your success. If you succeed, it means to a large degree that we have too. Our best hopes and aspirations go with you.

Sincerely,

John O. Eidson

Presidents Message

Presidents — Vice And Emeritus

The view from the Vice President's Office must, by necessity, be a reasonably comprehensive one. It includes students, faculty, other staff, academic programs, library, community, facilities, budgets, and the list could be continued. This means, also, that the view includes a multitude of problems. But the really important fact is that the picture, viewed comprehensively, is great! The problems fade beside the bright spots in the picture, and it is obvious that the state of the College is good. We have a wonderful group of students, a fine faculty, a dedicated staff, excellent programs, a growing library, a friendly community, expanding facilities, and continuing support.

This is what makes the Vice President's job at Georgia Southern so rewarding.

ACADEMICS

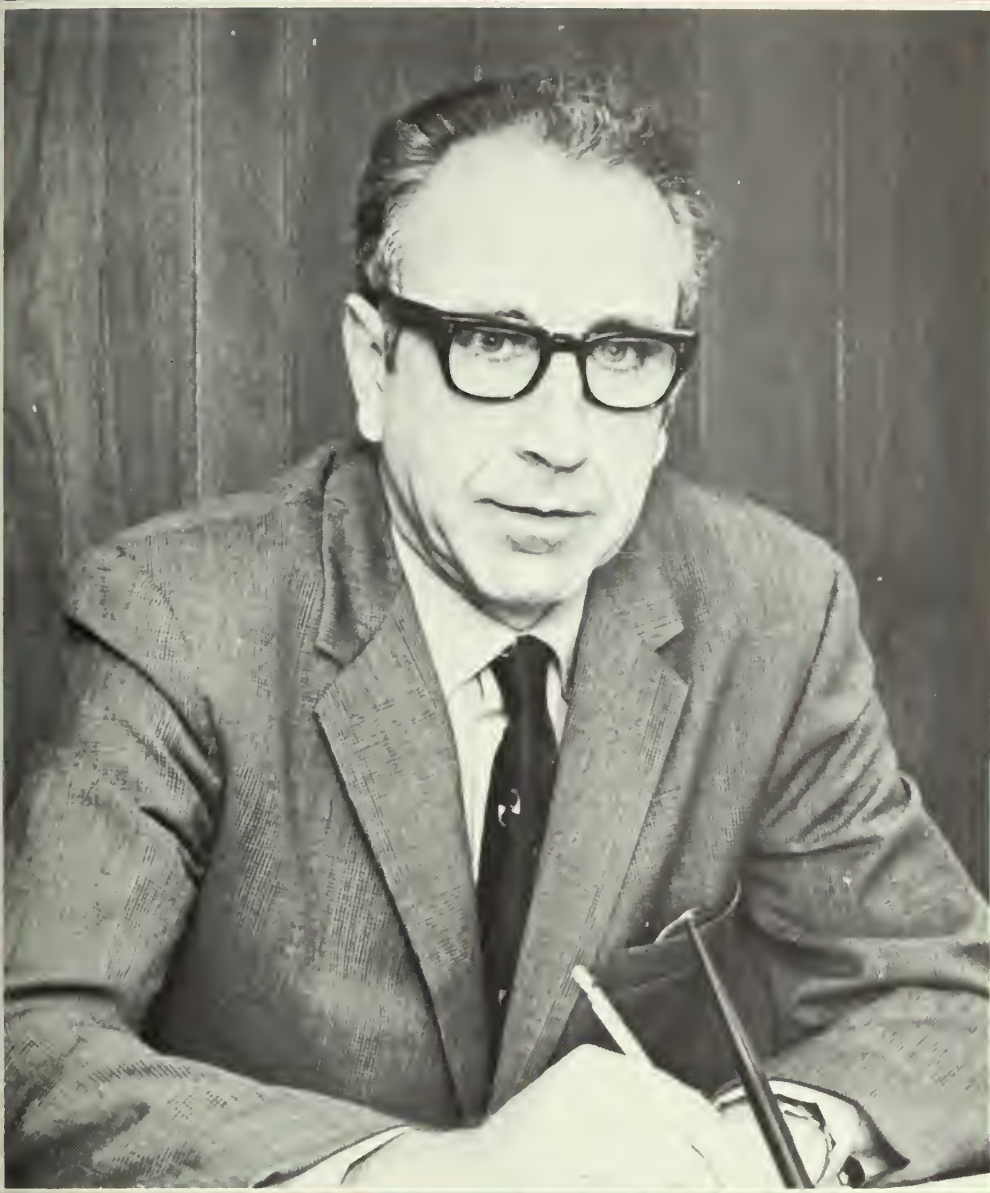

Jack Averitt, Dean

Graduate School

The purpose of graduate study is the promotion of scholarship that is thorough, creative, and independent in character. The program finds its province in training the student to become an investigator in special fields of learning, broadening his professional and cultural background, fostering research and the application of research methods, and improving his professional skills and competence.

In enrollment and expansion of degree programs, the Graduate School has been one of the fastest-growing areas at Georgia Southern College. It is anticipated that additional advanced graduate degrees with supporting majors in all degree programs will be added in the very near future.

Nicholas W. Quick, Dean

Arts And Sciences

The School of Arts and Sciences instructs the student in the principles of analytical thought, introduces him to a specialized bloc of subject matter, and assists him in interrelating the contents of various fields. The faculty in Arts and Sciences takes as its major objective the development of an atmosphere that is creative, current, and challenging.

The School itself is divided into five academic divisions and offers numerous majors: Art, Music, French, Spanish, Speech, Biology, Chemistry, Geology, Mathematics, Physics, History, Psychology, Political Science, Sociology, and Criminal Justice. New programs added by the School of Arts and Sciences during the academic year 1970-1971 include an institute of Arthropodology and Parasitology, a bloc major in Humanities, and the availability of a minor in Philosophy.

School Of Education

Created in January of 1969, the School of Education's purposes are manifold. The School not only provides for the preparation of those who hold school positions, but it serves as a center for the study of education and the dissemination of education developments that will lift the level of the public schools. It is the objectives of the School of Education to graduate school personnel who are distinctively creative, effective with students, and influential in their geographic areas.

Students are offered programs of study toward the Bachelor of Recreation and the Bachelor of Science degrees. At the graduate level, programs are offered leading to the degrees of Master of Recreation Administration, Master of Science for Teachers, Master of Education, and Six-Year Programs.

Hilton T. Bonniwell, Director

Continuing Education

The Continuing Education Division offers a wide span of beneficial opportunities to persons who are interested in furthering their personal development and constructive pursuits. The aims and objectives of the Division include: (1) providing educational opportunities for adults at times and places where they might take advantage of them; (2) promoting in-service programs; (3) mounting information programs on contemporary issues; (4) arranging education and consultative services for governmental and voluntary agencies as needed in their study of local and national problems; (5) and serving as a two-way channel of communication between the college and its many publics.

The Division of Continuing Education offers both credit and non-credit programs as well as services.

School Of Education

The School of Education was established in December 1968, started in January 1969, and organized according to a plan in July 1969. Summarized, its purpose cause it to be the school to prepare personnel to engage in the improvement of people through education and recreation. It is charged with initiating, coordinating, and directing all programs and degrees for the preparation of school personnel.

The operation of the School of Education calls for both planning and administration. The administrative activities are handled by a Division of Health, Physical Education, & Recreation; the Departments of Instruction, Secondary Education, Professional Laboratory Experiences, Elementary Education, Educational Psychology & Guidance, School Service Personnel, and the Marvin Pittman Laboratory School. The planning activities for the School of Education are condensed in Program Development Units which include faculty members from units of the college outside the School of Education.

The School, with its purposes and its structure, is making preparation for entry into a new building effective August 1. It stands ready to render distinguished service and it stretches its energies beyond any of the present boundaries.

Division Of Business

The Business Division attempts to give the student not only a technical base of business knowledge but also to equip him to live and function in a rapidly changing world of broader business and social objectives. The businessman of today must concern himself not only with his immediate job but increasingly be involved in the social and political aspects of society as a whole.

Georgia Southern's Business Division is the largest in the University System outside of the Atlanta-Athens area. The degrees offered are Master of Business Administration, Bachelor of Business Administration with majors in Management, Marketing, Marketing with a fashion merchandising option, Finance, Economics, Accounting, and General Business or the Bachelor of Science in Office Administration.

Dr. Fielding D. Russell — Chairman
 Dr. Lawrence Huff — Head, Dept. of English, Journalism, and Philosophy; Dr. Clarence McCord — Head, Dept. of Speech; Dr. Zoltan Farkas — Head, Dept. of Foreign Languages.

Division Of Languages

The Division of Languages, first organized in 1935, included the disciplines of English, French, Journalism, and Spanish. German was first offered in 1937 and Speech in 1939. In recent years there have been added Italian, Latin, Philosophy, and Russian.

In 1969 the Division, with a staff of 49 members, was divided into the Department of English, Journalism, and Philosophy, the Department of Foreign Languages, and the Department of Speech. Within these departments are offered both the A.B. and B.S. in Education degrees with majors in English, French, German, Spanish, and Speech, and with A.B. degree minors in these subjects and in journalism and philosophy.

On the graduate level are offered the Master of Arts in English, the Master of Science for Teachers of English, the Six-year certificate, and the Education Specialist degree. Future plans anticipate the establishment of graduate programs in speech and foreign languages.

Science And Mathematics

All members of the Chemistry Dept. hold the Ph. D. degree in their area of specialization, and the department provides a comprehensive program of chemical education at the undergraduate level. The department is striving to develop the facilities necessary for formal accreditation by the American Chemical Society. Once this is achieved, it hopes to institute a graduate program, initially at the master's level.

The Physics Dept. offers both the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees. Its staff numbers six, four with Ph. D. degrees. A new $2,300,000 Physics and Mathematics building will be available by Sept. 1971 with excellent facilities for teaching and research.

The Dept. of Mathematics offers a wide range of courses at both undergraduate and graduate levels. The department offers an M.S. in Mathematics and courses for graduate students in the M. Ed., M.S.T., and Ed. S. Degree programs in Education.

The Dept. of Geology offers the B.A. and B.S. degrees to its majors. All faculty members are engaged in research, as well as a number of senior students.

Social Science

The Division of Social Science is made up of the Departments of History, Political Science, Psychology and Sociology. It is also the home of the program of Criminal Justice and the academic areas of anthropology, pre-law, and geography. Approximately 900 students are working toward undergraduate degrees — Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science, and the Bachelor of Science in Education — in this division. The Master of Arts degree is offered in History and Psychology. The graduate major in social science as a teaching field leads to the advanced degrees of Master of Science for Teachers and Master of Education.

Dr. Jack W. Broucek — Head, Dept. of Music; Mr. Henry Iler — Head, Dept. of Visual Arts.

Fine Arts

The Department of Music, an Associate Member of the National Association of Schools of Music, is currently developing a self-study for presentation for full membership in that Association to become effective Fall 1971. During the past year various faculty members and committees have been working on restructuring courses within the Department for the various degree programs in music and music education. Some major areas which will demand attention in the immediate future include: (1) scholarships for promising music students (2) a new organ for the Foy Fine Arts Recital Hall (3) the establishment of an electronic music studio, and (4) a graduate degree in music.

The Dept. of Art offers the B.S. and A.B. degrees to its majors. Courses are available in art history, textile design, interior design, ceramics, drawing, painting, printmaking, sculpture, and advertising design. A fine new building houses spacious art classrooms and studios.

Health, P.E., Recreation

The Division of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation provides a variety of degree programs for its 400 majors and extensive services to the entire student body of Georgia Southern College. From a program standpoint a student may be certified to teach health and physical education on the junior and senior high school levels. Included are areas of emphasis in Dance, Elementary Physical Education, Gymnastics, Swimming, Athletic Training, and Driver Education. The Master's and Six-Year degree programs provide for increased professional growth. The Recreation Curricula at the graduate and undergraduate levels provides an opportunity for the individual student to be fully qualified in a number of areas in this important field.

Home Economics

The Division of Home Economics at Georgia Southern is one of ten units of the University System offering studies in the field. Among the senior institutions the Home Economics program at Georgia Southern ranks as second largest in the number of majors offered within the program and the number of students enrolled.

The Division's general purpose is to transmit and synthesize scientific research in physical, behavioral and life sciences into the realities of living for families of the nation. Current national trends reflect increasing enrollments in Home Economics in institutions of higher learning. Predictions for the 70's in Home Economics a G.S.C. is for a parallel increase in enrollment. With the expansion of facilities at Georgia Southern College, this prediction should be fulfilled.

Industrial Technology

The Industrial Technology Division was established in 1936 to prepare industrial arts teachers for the schools of Georgia. The B.S. in Industry degree with majors in Industrial Technology, Industrial Management, and Printing Management were introduced during the decade of the 1960's. Plans are to introduce programs in Industrial Design and Industrial Engineering in the future.

The Division produced 100 graduates in 1970; 75 were industrial technology and industrial management graduates and 25 were industrial arts education graduates.

Purposes of the Industrial Technology Division include developing in students an understanding and awareness of technology in our culture, exposing them to a liberal scientific-technological background that permits entry to management and engineering positions, and providing a basic background of competence to teach about industry and its technology.

Rosenwald Library

The Library of Georgia Southern is a major resource of the College. With a collection now totalling over 300,000 items it is well on its way toward becoming the major research library in South Georgia. This year has been a season of reorganization under a new Director of Libraries, but reorganization has not slowed a constantly increasing rate of growth for the Library.

More than two-thirds of the items in the Library have been added to it within the last ten years, and the present rate of growth is over twenty thousand volumes annually. A high-spot in the Library's history in 1970/71 was its receipt in January of a gift from the Sea Island Bank of a valuable collection of books totalling almost seven thousand volumes. The Library includes extensive collections in various types of microform as well as books. It receives over 1500 periodicals and fifteen daily newspapers on current subscriptions and is the depository for Federal Government documents for the First Congressional District of Georgia.

A new library building for the College has been authorized and is expected to be ready for use by the fall of 1973. It will provide space for a book collection of over 600,000 volumes, study areas for approximately 1750 readers, work areas and offices for a staff of sixty, and room for widely expanded library services.

Emotionalism At GSC Basketball Games

GSC Basketball games are thrilling and fun. The fire and fury of the team causes the spectators to effervesce with excitement. The Announcer, the Swing-ing Belles, the Cheerleaders, the Coaches and the players all add to the dramatic emotionalism that is found at all Georgia Southern Basketball games.

Globetrotters Come To G.S.C.

The unbeatable Harlem Globetrotters came to Southern with their unending sensationalism that they take with them everywhere they go. Two men from each fraternity formed a team against the "trotters", but to no avail were their efforts to outshoot the Professionals. However, a good time was had by all.

"Poetry In Motion"

Coach Oertley in an interview for the George-Anne described the art of Gymnastics as "poetry in motion," gymnastics being a sport of communication.

With the addition of Yoshiaki Takei to the coaching staff, the chance of passing on proper direction, love of the sport and insight into its beauty were greatly enhanced. Mr. Takei was on Olympic gymnast for Japan.

Cross-Country — 5-1 Season

The Harriers participated in The Georgia State Championship Meet on November 7, 1971 and proudly carried home the fifth place ribbon.

An encouraging 5 wins, 1 loss season kept up morale. The young cross country team had no high school experienced runners and lost only to Emory, a very seasoned team.

Ron Oertley has initiated an all-year practice plan in order to insure an experienced team for the future.

"Men's Tennis Team Has Best Season Ever"

The Men's Tennis team has had the best season ever with an 18-5 Season. The team had its strength in depth and all members were extremely close in their ability. They did an excellent job at the Nationals in Greencastle Indiana at Depauw University.

The Women's Tennis team haven't reached their potential in individual capacities, but they are still developing. With only one senior, Patty Downs, the team is expecting some excellent results next year. This year the team placed second over all in the Southern Women's Athletic Conference.

This season's games were very unique with the final game score of 20-21. Coach Spieth noted that there was good pitching with adequate hitting, however, the season was a very tough schedule. This season was an extremely unusual season in that it was almost a split season. Almost every double-header was split. Although there were many inexperienced young players on the team, they have much potential and an excellent year is expected in the future.

Eagle Linksmen Split With U. Of Ga.

The GSC Golf team split a two-game set with the University of Georgia linksmen at Forest Heights Country Club. On Saturday, May 1, the Eagles shot a four-under-par 284 to drop the Bulldogs by a four-stroke margin, but the Ga. team set a school record on Saturday to win that match 275-290. Southern's team has come a long way and expects an excellent season.

Reflector Staff

Two members of this year's Reflector Staff traveled to Minneapolis, Minnesota to attend the Associated Collegiate Press Convention. They were Chris Miller, Editor-In-Chief and Andy Moscrip, Layout Editor. The Reflector will be entered in the ACP Yearbook Division Contest this year for the first time. The Top Award of the Contest is the "All American Yearbook Award." This top prize has been the goal of this year's staff. There are many rules and regulations which must be followed in order to enter competition, consequently, many hours were spent on the technical production of the Reflector.

The attempt of this year's staff has been to produce a well rounded book, representative of the Georgia Southern Campus. We sincerely hope you enjoy the issue.

The staff of the Reflector has worked hard to produce this yearbook for you. We sincerely hope you are as pleased with it as we are. The staff has been proud to serve you by recording this school year for your remembrance.

I must thank some of the people that have been critical in the production of this book: Mr. Gordon Turner has been most helpful and understanding in his position as faculty advisor; Dr. Hollis Cate, chairman of the Board of Student Publications, has done a lot of work behind the scenes for us. Andy Moscrip, my Layout Editor, has been the backbone of the staff: his ideas and enthusiasm have been wonderful and his yearbook knowledge has been a great asset to the staff. Miss Beverly Whitehead did a terrific job as Faculty Editor when we needed her most. My entire staff has done a good job — I am most thankful for the ones that stuck it out the entire year with me. Their measure of appreciation will be judged by your acceptance of this book.

Let me congratulate the graduates of 1970-1971. We are proud of you and hope that, in the future, you will be proud of us. This school will not soon forget you, and we hope, through this yearbook, you will not soon forget it. This is your yearbook, this is your year.
